The media organization "O Phileleftheros" launched a great "academic" project, trying to record part of the economic and business history of Cyprus. This includes the recording of the history of local companies and organizations that with their long term and successful business and social activity marked positively the Cyprus economy and contributed to the development of our country.

The project, records and publishes the main historical data and moments of companies and groups with a presence in the economic life span, equal to and greater than that of the Republic of Cyprus which has already completed 61 years of life. The presentations are adorned with interviews and testimonials from top executives of these companies that do not follow the stereotype standards. In most of the cases they are "soul-searching" interviews.

The honorary first company presentation of the project was the one for the Lanitis Group. A two-pages presentation, combined with an interview with the Chairman of the Group, Mr. Platon Lanitis, from which you can read below characteristic quotes:

"We always worked as a team. Team and collective effort and work is one of our beliefs. In the business field, we don't run a marathon, but a relay race for the team." "If I want to picture our organisation, I will say that we are like a solid and durable wall, built of stones, some of them big and some small, but all necessary. Each stone is part of the construction, having its own special role, but always as part of the whole."

"One of the main characteristics of the Lanitis Group is the continuous development and evolution. Our belief is that, in the business world, nothing stays constant and that we must constantly search and evolve based on proper planning, responding to the new conditions and challenges of the market." "Also, our father was always talking to us about social contribution. He was always assuring us that for an organization, profitability is equally important with what we offer and return back to the society."

"Personally, I believe that we Cypriots are used to face challenging situations and crises and we have proven that we can adapt to new conditions imposed by external factors." "Certainly, the current crisis is very different from the previous ones, because it also affects the field of human health, but I believe that we will overcome this as well."

Following the great success of the sales launch of limited number of plots, Limassol Greens, the project which will be developed by Lanitis Golf Public Co Ltd, moved on to the next step, which was the launch of sales of three to six-bedroom villas and two- and three-bedroom apartments. The exclusive responsibility of property sales of the project was undertaken by Cybarco Development Ltd.
